

VE Day activities

Tomorrow is VE Day. VE day is a celebration of the end of World War 2. It is a bank holiday which means that most people don't have to go to work and school. We are going to do some activities to learn and remember why we still celebrate this important day.

Choose one activity from each row, so at the end of the day you should have completed 3 activities. Look for the specific instructions on the assignment post. Upload pictures of your work for us to see!

Row 1	Write a newspaper article imagining you were in 1945 reporting the end of the war.	Imagine you are one of the people in the picture and write a diary entry.	Complete the VE Day fact file comprehension.
Row 2	Complete the rationing shopping list.	Complete the Morse Code breaking activity.	Use your times tables to get to the street party.
Row 3	Have a go at cooking a rationing recipe.	Make a fleet of paper aeroplanes. Which plane flies the farthest? Which plane flies the quickest? Why?	Sort the timeline of WW2 into the correct order.
