

Coming up with ideas

Today we'd like you to start coming up with ideas about what you might do for your own story.

Yesterday, you came up with a new creature for your main character to rescue.

Go through the list below and start to write down some ideas, you might want to come up with a couple for each subheading.

My setting:

What my setting looks like:

My main character:

What my main character looks like:

What my main character's personality is like:

Some amazing vocabulary I'd like to include:

A simile I might use: